ASSET PROFILE:

19. Please complete the following Asset Profile using approximate amounts for the fair market value of your assets. If you have previously created a Revocable Trust, please indicate with an "*" which assets are titled in your Revocable Trust.

When assets are owned by more than one person, they are owned either jointly or as tenants in common. If an asset is held by joint tenants with rights of survivorship, it will pass automatically to the surviving joint tenant at the time of death of the first tenant, and therefore will not be subject to probate. If an asset is held by tenants in common, each person owns an undivided interest in the property which will not pass to the other tenants in common at the time of death of the first tenant, and will therefore be subject to probate.

If it is not clear from the legal title to the asset that it is owned in joint tenancy, then New Hampshire law presumes that the owners hold the asset as tenants in common. You may not be able to tell by looking at your bank statements or brokerage statements whether the tenancy is joint. You should contact the holders of your assets to determine whether their records show that the tenancy is joint with rights of survivorship or as tenants in common.

During lifetime incapacity and after your death, others (called "fiduciaries") may act on your behalf. You may select one or more fiduciaries to act concurrently or successively on your behalf. Most people select their spouse, trusted friend or family member to act as the guardian for their minor children, executor, trustee and/or agent. For some people, a bank or trust company may be recommended. If your are uncertain about this selection, we will discuss your options when we meet.
